JANZEN-REMPPEL

The marriage took place on the 8th day of February, at the home of Mr. P. S. Rempel, of Mr. Peter D. Janzen, Herbert Sisk, to Miss Len Rempel, youngest daughter of Mr. P. S. Rempel of Didsbury. Rev. D. Unrau officiating. The happy couple are spending a few days in town before moving to their home in Herbert Sisk, where they will reside for the future.

CREAM GRADING ENDORSED

Both Saskatchewan and Manitoba have now endorsed Alberta's system of cream grading, so far as the dairymen's conventions of these two provinces are concerned. It is likely that legislation will be introduced by these two provinces along the lines of that in Alberta. Both these provinces abhor the cream buying stations some years two ago.

SUNNY ALBERTA

Mr. L. L. Crowell was a visitor in our office on Wednesday, the 28th day of February. Mr. Crowell has got all records beaten that we have heard of for spring work around here as he reports that he has 2 teams working on fall plowing now. The first is out of the ground over six inches and the plowing a pleasure. As far as California goes we wouldn't even consider moving down there now. Snow has almost completely disappeared and cars are running about as though it were the middle of summer. Providing the chinooks last a while longer we won't know that we have had any winter at all.

In the Legislature

One of the most important acts of the session was introduced during the past week by Hon. Mrs. Davlby, member of the government without portfolio. This act makes provision for certain proceedings through the courts whereby the father of illegitimate children may be made responsible for the maintenance of the mother of such children for a certain period, and for the maintenance of the child until the age of sixteen. This bill is called An Act for the Protection of the Children of Unmarried Parents, and makes provision for administration of the act under the supervision of a medical officer, who may be appointed guardians of illegitimate children under certain conditions. The act also provides for the summing up of fathers of such children, and for the issuing of affiliation orders against such fathers, for the care and maintenance of mother and child under certain conditions. The act received its second reading on Thursday following a short address by Mrs. Davlby.

UNIVERSITY REPORT

During the present term there are 1253 students registered at the Alberta University, according to the annual report of that institution. Of these 326 are first year students, 256 second year students, 208 in the third year and 191 in the fourth year, with 68 graduates. The 19 graduate includes 124 corresponding students, 71 summer session students, 59 special students, 16 public health nurses and 9 B. D. students. There are 655 students in arts and sciences, 81 in applied science, 222 in medicine, 148 in law, 102 in agriculture, and 41 in pharmacy.

TO WHOM THE SHOE FITS

Is it anybody's business if a gentleman should choose To call upon a lady—if the lady doesn't refuse? Or to speak a little plainer, that the meaning all may know—is it anybody's business if a lady has a beau?

Is it anybody's business when that gentleman does call? Or when he leaves the lady? Or if he comes at all? Or is it necessary that the curtain should be drawn? To move from further trouble from outside lookers on?

Is it anybody's business—but the lady—if her beau Rides out with other ladies and doesn't let her know? Is it anybody's business—but the gentleman—if she Should accept another escort? Where he doesn't chance to her?

If a person's on the sidewalk Whether great or whether small, Is it anybody's business where that person needs to call? And if you see a person as he's calling anywhere, Is it anybody's business what his business may be there?

The substance of our query simply stated would be this: Is it anybody's business what another's business is? Or if it is, or if it isn't, we would really like to know. For we're certain if it isn't there are some who make it so.

If it is, we'll join the rabble and act the noble part Of the tattlers and defamers who through the public mart, If hurt, will act the teacher until the middle learns. 'Twould be better in the future if 'd mind his own concerns. —Exchange.

In Tur-r-rns

A certain young lady in town told us last week that she enjoyed our Curling column because we put funny stories in it.

We strenuously object however. We simply state the facts of the games. We were always taught not to tell stories.

Jim wants to know how a man can win against back like that. He can't.

The veteran rink upheld the honor of the skips last Friday night.

A nightwatchman isn't usually connected with curling. We imagine they are sometimes however.

Hour after hour they sat in the dark corner of the verandah, chilled and chilled and chilled. The moon came out and went in again disgusted; still they cuddled.

In due course the stalwart representative of the law made his rounds. The lamp flashed on the couple of turle doves. "Hello! what are you doing?" he demanded. "N.N. Noth," he retorted the flabbergasted fellow.

"What nothing? Here, hold my lamp."

The local rink of fair sex, which went to the Calgary Lancers, are sorry to report did not bring back any laurels, in fact they were almost afraid to come back themselves. In other words they were defeated. However we think as King Tutenkhamen said, "Bravoo!" the king bawled out, "All honor to those who try!" The women at least tried, and this was one better than any four men in town did. The rink was composed of Miss A. G. Studor, Mrs. P. B. Reed, Mrs. A. G. Studor, and Miss Florence Reber.

The Mitchell Cup was successfully defended here against Crossfield last Thursday night. The game was started at about 7:30 and although the ice was a little heavy, was not bad considering. Both games were exhibitions of some nice curling and although Didsbury managed to get the lead in most ends fairly early in the game, which they held throughout, the playing was very interesting to watch. One of the late, as crowds of the season turned out to witness the victory. On the veteran rink the same local men curled, namely, J. L. Reed skip, G. Hearn, B. Sinclair and J. McNeilie against the Crossfield aggregation of T. Kilham skip, R. Whitfield, N. S. King, J. Percival, Mr. J. Reed started in this game against Kilham and both skips pulled off some remarkably fine shots. The score was 18 to 7 in our favor.

On the green rink the colts as usual were on the rampage and played fifteen ends of good lively curling. E. E. Freeman skip, D. Shephard, E. Crossman, T. Johnson against J. L. McNeilie skip J. Fair, born, J. Becker, and W. Pogue of Crossfield made themselves a score of 17 to 12.

Total points, Didsbury 36, Crossfield 19.

Friday night baseball are supposed to back up their challenge but if the weather continues as it is at present the ice will be impossible to play on. Should they come however the ice will probably melt anyway the games will be as hot. Baseball have some of the best teams on the island.

"Very pretty," the Senator observed judiciously, "perhaps, perhaps."

"How long are you going to stay?" asked Wade.

"Perhaps that will depend upon how glad I think you are to have us."

She gave him an ardent glance, which he was not proof against, not would any other man have been so.

"No doubt of that," he laughed with her, his disappointment passing before the old love spell, which she knew so well how to cast about him.

"You couldn't have come at a better time, either, for now there is some one here who can be company for you."

"That is," he added lamely, "when you're tired of having me around."

"Really?" Helen was a bit chilled by this obvious faux pas. Truly, despite his worth as a man, Gordon Wade was no courtier.

"Of course, you haven't heard of her, but you'll like her. She's Miss Dorothy Purnell. Everybody does like her."

Helen affected a gaiety which she could scarcely have been expected to feel. Although she was not socially adept in conversing her real feeling, Wade saw nothing serene. Only the Senator twisted his mouth in a grim smile.

"Oh, but I have heard of her; indeed, I have. Mr. Moran sent me a little photograph of you both on horseback. Just see how her face has creased. The confidence I shall be charmed to meet her."

A great light dawned upon Wade. "Then that was what he wanted with the picture?" he exclaimed. "We wondered at the time. I thought it pretty innocent of her, but of course if he wanted it not to send to you, that was all right."

Miss Reckhill winced inwardly. In spite of herself, her face expressed it.

WOMEN FROM FORTY TO FIFTY

Will Be Interested in Mrs. Thompson's Recovery by Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me good in every way. I was very weak and rundown and had certain troubles that women of my age are likely to have. I did not like to go to the doctor as I took the Vegetable Compound and am still taking it right along. I recommend it to my friends and to any one I know who is a feeling well."

Mrs. Thompson, 301 Lizzie St., Winnipeg, Man.

When women who are between the ages of forty-five and fifty-five are beset with such annoying symptoms as nervousness, irritability, melancholia and hot flashes, which produce headaches, dizziness, or a sense of suffocation, they should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It is prepared from roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from roots and herbs, has for forty years proved its value in such cases. Women everywhere hear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., 222 College St., Toronto, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Test-Book upon "Aliments Peculiar to Women."

certain amount of plague, for the implication was manifestly that if Race Moran had wanted the picture for himself, the idea would have been "in tolerable to Wade."

"Oh, yes, quite all right," you seem to say. She checked herself with the reproach upon her tongue, reflecting that, after all, she was most fond of Wade because of his naturalness. Maxwell Payne, for instance, was without a peer in spinning gossamer phrases; but he spun little else.

"But I don't understand why he should send it to you," Wade said, in a low tone, as the Senator turned to hand over an open travelling bag on a nearby chair. "Is he doing you?" A slight gleam of jealousy seemed to seize upon him, under the victory of her slow smile.

"Oh, he's been willing to me, and I suppose he thought I'd be interested. Of course, I was." She leaned to hand him a trifle, a mere swaying of her body, like a dilly in a breeze, and impulsively he placed his big hand over hers.

"It's better not—he'd better mind his own business," he said grimly. She laughed softly, tantalizingly, and being human, Wade kissed her; the Senator being still busy with the contents of the bag.

This excited none of them heard a knock at the door, which finally opened before Moran, who, even if he did not actually see the kiss, could hardly have failed to suspect it from their embarrassed manner. Helen felt sure from his manner of expression that he had witnessed the scene, and she was rather glad of it.

He exchanged a slightly stiff greeting with the senator, and then while Wade and Helen continued their talk, the agent spoke in a carefully controlled undertone with his employer. The news he brought, whatever it was, seemed significant, for the Senator appeared excited and presently turned to Wade.

"You'll not mind if I go over to the office with Moran, Gordon?"

"Certainly not, Senator. Don't let me interrupt you. But what's the use of us staying indoors, indeed? The sun has turned now and it's cooler out. I'll show you something of our city, if you're not tired of it."

"Why not let me take you over and introduce you to the only woman you're likely to find congenial in this neighborhood? She'll be glad to meet you, I know."

In any other company, Miss Reckhill would probably have resented an invitation to call upon a rival, even apart from the ethics of social calls, but not before Race Moran. Before him, she would not humble Wade in the least degree, if only because to do so would reflect upon her own preference for the man she could only pretend to welcome the prospect of going to see Miss Purnell, and she played her part well.

"As you say, we'll stay here now," Reckhill said, when the two young people had left the room. "When did all this happen?"

"I just got word of it," Moran answered, a bit excitedly. "Don't you see how it plays right into our hands? It's the perfect thing that could have happened for us. It might have been made to order."

"Are you sure it wasn't? Are you sure you didn't have the man shot, Race?" Senator Reckhill's tone was dry, dry, and he was not in the least keenly as he asked the question.

Moran assumed an attitude of indignation. "Why, Senator?"

"I want to know where we stand. By God, Race, you mustn't go so far. We're traveling mighty close to the limit as it is."

"But these fellows are likely to happen at any time. This one in particular has been leaving me weeks. Why, connect me with it, unnecessary. It's."

"All right. I see your point, of course. The assassin is unknown; accident naturally falls upon Wade, who is at the head of the cattle for the time and who, as you say, threatened Jensen on his morning. If we can get him to smile his party is likely to fall down."

"Exactly," Moran cried eagerly. "Furness has placed him right in our hands."

"Well, I'm not going to have him arrested," Reckhill announced doggedly. "At least, not on any trumped-up charge. He's broken my bread. Helen likes him. We call him a friend, in fact. I always have shared with my friends—as far as possible. It's strategy, nobody can quarrel with that, but the thing you propose is something more."

Moran, while listening, had restrained his impatience with difficulty. He not only had reason on his side, but personal hate as well. His sense of triumph in bringing the news to Reckhill had not been for the love of Helen; with Wade for the love of Helen. To have the fruits of victory snatched from him, here, at a moment of triumph, was almost more than the agent could stand for.

"Oh, God, Senator," he burst out, "don't throw this chance away! Think what it means to us! We are running close to the limit and must this moment. It's been a toss up whether we get out of here with our lives; whether I would at any rate. I've run a solitary big bluff on these cattle people, but I did it because it was the only way. I've held my own so far, but when they find out that I've got them, there'll be no holding them at all. With Wade at their head and forty miles between us and the eye."

where would we go off? We'd be lucky if we didn't swing from the gallows as a free. Do you suppose Wade would remember then that he'd broke on your head? I'll bet dollars to doughnuts he wouldn't."

"But"—his voice sank to a significant whisper—"if we had him in jail."

"His friends here would get him out," interposed the Senator, nervously wiping his glasses.

"Then Uncle Sam would put him in again, with a troop of cavalry to keep him in his glasses."

Then the cattle would be mighty low. Wade has been their leader right along. I tell you, it's the only way, and you know what it means to me—to you."

Moral View of British Debt

Country Does Not Really Own United States a Dollar

The war was fought for a common cause, the men of many nations fighting, dying, and financing each other to save all from an unenviable fate. At least the American people are generous—and they understand the situation just well enough to feel a sense of embarrassment at their commission imposing terms on a country that is playing the game and striving to save her credit. Surely the British do not owe the United States a dollar. When all is said and done there might be added to the credit side of the Justice and Fair Play account Britain's outpouring of gold in Belgium since the Allied cause from August, 1914, to April 1917.—Ottawa Journal.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Even if cold, feverish, fluish, constipated or full of cold, children love the "friendly" taste of "California Fig Syrup." A teaspoonful twice a day will clean the liver and bowels. Less Hail Losses

Saskatchewan Hail Insurance Statistics Are More Satisfactory

A. E. Fisher, Superintendent of Insurance for Saskatchewan, has issued a statement showing the premiums received by the hail insurance companies during the underwriting season of 1922, together with the losses paid. This statement is based on figures supplied by the general managers, and as far as the companies themselves are concerned, is subject to revision when the insurance treaties of the head offices are taken into consideration.

"It is certainly gratifying," said Mr. Fisher, "to note that the hail losses during 1922 were lower than in any of the past five years, and that the loss ratio was only 31.79 of the premiums received. The experience of 1922 was a great deal more favorable than that of 1921.

"As far as the premiums paid for hail insurance are concerned there was a decided falling off in the amount paid in 1922, the figure for that year being $3,457,517.75, as compared with $4,588,925.02 in 1921. On the other hand the losses for 1922 were $1,098,991.71, as compared with $1,628,137.60."

TIRED-OUT WOMEN

What They Need to Restore Health and Vitality

The woman who feels tired out, who wakes all over when she rises in the morning, who feels depressed most of her time, needs just the help that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give her—new blood and stronger nerves. The number of disorders caused by this blood is amazing, and most women are careless about the condition of their blood. Their nerves are quickly affected, and they become irritable, they worry over trifles, and do not obtain refreshing sleep. There may be stomach troubles and head aches. This is the condition that calls for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the blood-making and nerve-restoring pills. The value of this medicine is proved by the statement of Mrs. John Conroy, Fall River, Ont., who says: "Two years ago, after the birth of one of my children, I became so run down that I had to wean the baby and could not do my housework. I lost appetite, took no interest in anything, and was in a pitiable condition. I tried different doctors, but they did me little or very much. I was in this condition all summer until a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking two boxes I felt somewhat better and got a further supply. I could no longer improve, I could do my housework, and was again feeling worth while. I continued taking the pills for some months, and was then enjoying the best of health. I cannot too strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone run down and in need of a tonic as they built me up, and there is no class of ailments about me today."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 25 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rare Owl In London Zoo

Snowy Bird Was Caught by Vessel in Mid-Ocean

A snowy owl captured on board a vessel 200 miles out of New York has reached the London zoo.

There was once in the gardens a specimen of this large and fierce species taken 700 miles from shore. One cannot mistake the newcomer, for its feathers are immaculately clean compared with those of the other owl, in the next cage, which have become dimmed by the smoke and logs of London.

What is more interesting to note, however, is that, save for his face, the plumage of the latest import in the owl's aviary is richly adorned with very black markings, while that of its neighbor is almost pure white. The former is the feathers of the immature bird, and the latter that of the adult. The home of the snowy owl is the treeless wastes of the Arctic. The bird is a regular visitor to Great Britain, but it is extremely scarce.

Help for Asthma. Sufferers also find a great advantage. The trouble once it has secured a foothold, fastens its grip on the bronchial passages tenaciously. Dr. J. H. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is daily benefiting cases of asthma or lung standing. Years of suffering, however, might have been prevented had the remedy been used when the trouble was in its first stages. Do not neglect asthma, but use this preparation at once.

Proven fault proved stronger, but when a runaway horse in Atlanta City stopped when a traffic policeman threw the signal to "stop" raised his right hand and blew his whistle.

"My Heart Would Palpitate, I Had Weak Spells"

At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes. It has done wonders for me and I want to recommend it to everyone."

Here and There

Bant—J. B. Harkin, Commissioner of National Parks, has announced that the formal opening of the Banff-Windermere Road, work on which was completed last year, was postponed until April 21. A ceremony is to be held at Vauxhall Crossing, half way between Banff and Windermere, before leaving both ends of the road early in the morning to meet at that place. The suggestion has been made by R. H. Bruce, of Invermere, that the National Park be named "Columbia National Park" for the road leading up the Columbia Valley from the boundary to Golden he named the "Columbia Highway."

Victoria.—Motorists will have a new circuit trip available with the completion in May of the high-powered motor ferry now building at Yarrow. Not only will Island and Mainland be linked by the operation of this craft, but the Canadian Pacific will have the steamer "Charm" engaged in the purpose forth north. The "Charm" will operate between Vancouver and Nanaimo, furnishing accommodation for all types of cars. With the new ferry in service, a new circuit will be made available—From Seattle via Bellingham to Sidney, thence to Victoria over paved road, to Nanaimo over the Malahat, thence by the "Charm" to Vancouver and down the Pacific Highway to the border line and Seattle again.

The motor ferry will have ample height between decks to allow for all classes of cars. During the busy season it will make two round trips every day. The vessel will be fitted with observation rooms and open deck spaces to give tourists every opportunity to enjoy at their ease the fine scenery through the channels between San Juan, Lopez and other islands of the San Juan archipelago.

Pert William—E. G. Now, first aid instructor on the Canadian Pacific railway, who for the past seven years has been instructor on the eastern divisions, is in the city preparing to take charge of the work of the western divisions, from Fort William to Vancouver, and to organize first aid classes among the employees of the railway company and instruct them in the emergency treatment of accidents.

St. John, N.B.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has to Jan. 4th shipped more than two million bushels of grain more than during the corresponding period last year. This season's shipments have already totaled 4,987,164 bushels as compared with 2,658,582 bushels on the same date last season. The outlook is for a continued heavy movement.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—A large case of the Canadian Pacific Railway here have been officially informed that a measure of relief is to be granted them from the British income tax for the fiscal years 1910 and 1921 in respect of the company's payment of the Canadian income tax. This is the first official word on the subject of Canadian Pacific shares. By the Finance Act of 1920, all British subjects resident in overseas Dominions were granted in 1920, in some cases for 1919, and in the future, the right of reclaiming the British income tax as though actually resident in Britain. This affected Canadians deriving income from which the British income tax had been deducted. It is estimated that the amount saved by Canadians so situated, if they did not neglect to file their claims under the Act, would be over $1,600,000.

MEAT EXPORTERS' ANNUAL MEETING

Owing to an oversight on our part, the report of the following meeting was not published sooner.

The Annual general meeting of the Canadian Meat Export Association Limited was held in the Hood and Irvine Hall, Cal. 1919, on Thursday, January 18th, at 8 p. m., Mr. John T. Worthington, the President, in the chair.

The minutes of the last general meeting were read and on motion of Mr. John Leimann, of Crossfield, were approved.

The Secretary then presented the financial statement and the auditors' report and the motion of Mr. R. F. Palmer, that they be approved was laid over for discussion to the adjourned meeting to be held on Friday afternoon at 1 p. m.

On resuming after adjournment a full discussion of the financial state, next took place and the motion to adopt was passed unanimously.

The Secretary reported 250 members on the roll of shareholders and the district workers reported an increasing interest.

The following were unanimously elected Trustees for the ensuing year—John T. Worthington, Didsbury; R. Haire, Lethbridge; W. C. Smith, M. L. A. Medicine Hat; Chas. Burnett, North Edmonton; James Hosgood, Eldersburg; Joseph Smith, Innisfail; A. E. Doupe, Maugham. A decision of the organization necessary to increase the membership, was followed and a motion passed asking all interested to do everything possible to enable a start to be made to ship our own meat. The President read a letter received stating that the writer had seen Canadian chilled beef sold in Southfield market on an equality with English house killed beef, only typed by the strictest Scotch.

The Auditors were re-elected for the ensuing year. At the Trustees meeting following, John T. Worthington was re-elected President, and William Sparrell Secretary.

We have on hand a complete stock of first class building materials.

LUMBER, LATH, SHINGLES, BUILDING AND TAR PAPER, LIME AND CEMENT.

Lower seam double screened Drumheller nut coal $5.00 per ton.

Burnside

Last Friday evening, Mrs. A. A. Van Wyk and her sons received a pleasant surprise when between fifty and sixty neighbors gathered at their home to say goodbye and wish them good luck in their new home. The evening was spent in games and dancing. After an excellent lunch by the ladies, Mr. Fred Boulton made a neat little speech on behalf of the U. P. A. and W. C. T. U., and adjourned in general and referred to the Van Wyk's helpful work in the two organizations while Mrs. Eckel presented Mrs. Van Wyk with a well filled purse. Mrs. Van Wyk thanked them in a few well chosen words for coming and for their good wishes and present which she said she would treasure in memory of the good friends she was leaving and hoped to see them all in her new home.

Mrs. Van Wyk has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Burnside U. P. A. for some years and a very willing and capable worker for its advancement. She will be missed too in the W. C. T. U. of which she has been Secretary. The Community also will miss her for always when sickness and trouble came she was the first to drop her own interests and help the sufferers. It will be remembered that in the flu epidemic a few years ago when she and her husband nursed so many, Mr. Van Wyk contracted the malady and died from it. We wish her and her sons Godspeed in their new undertaking.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pross spent Sunday at Neak, Eckel. We are glad to see Mr. Pross as well after his recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Munson who have been in the States since the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Munson, moved to their own home near the Gate on Friday.

Miss Claribel Miller and her brother, John spent Friday at Mr. and Mrs. John Green's.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rose spent Friday at Walter Eldersburg's.

That new buggy seems busy lately. We thought we saw it go south on Sunday.

At the last meeting of the Burnside U. P. A., the energetic Secretary Mrs. Noah Eckel was presented with a handsome pair of fur driving gauntlets as an appreciation of her untiring and faithful work as secretary. The President, Mr. Dawson, read the address and the Vice-President, Mr. Fred Boulton made the presentation. Mrs. Eckel was surprised and very much pleased, and thanked them all for their kindness. This local was formed in June 1920 and many have come and gone but Mrs. Eckel has been Secretary ever since its organization and has seen all it's ups and downs.

Friday was a busy night, between the Oddfellows ball at Sunnyside and the surprise party at Mrs. Van Wyk's. Both were well patronized.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Milne was removed to the Hospital for treatment on Sunday. At last reports its condition was much improved.

Mrs. Tom Finlay and daughter Nora are spending a month with Calgary and Drumheller friends.

PILGRIMS OF THE NIGHT

Romance, thrills, adventure and human interest—plus an international plot combine to make "Pilgrims of the Night," next week's offering at the Opera House one of the most absorbing dramas of the season. It was produced by F. L. Prestonham for distribution by Associated Producers, Inc. from the famous novel, "Passers By" by E. Phillips Oppenheim.

The main romance of the story centres about Christine who believes herself to be the daughter of Marcel, a famous international crook. She loves the love of Ambrose, a handback satellite of Marcel's and also Dick Deunaway, an amateur English criminologist.
